Program Philosophy
Fundamental to the program is the belief that online course delivery is a highly effective methodology for an Associate’s Degree in Exercise Science. Most of the tasks completed involve working with knowledge, information, and digital systems, all of which can be comprehended as a result of properly designed online courses.

Also central to the program is a keen awareness of student need. Because many students face demanding personal schedules, they need to be able to access all course content “on-demand.” Consequently, the program strives to provide the flexibility and primary benefits of asynchronous education.

Further principles upon which the program is founded are as follows:
- Course content should be available on-demand and allow students to repeat and review content to reinforce comprehension.
- Technology should maximize the interconnectivity between the digital learning material and the human learner.
- Course content should involve a synergistic approach, incorporating textual, auditory, and visual content to address different learning styles.
- Courses should facilitate community learning as research shows a strong correlation between group participation and course completion.
• Students should be encouraged to engage in thoughtful dialog with other students. Knowledge which is passed along is often retained longer than knowledge which is simply absorbed.

• The courses should allow students to take advantage of the “courage” which relative anonymity provides in an educational context. Educational research has found that this feature is one of the greatest advantages of distance education. Students are much more willing to make a forum post than they would be to vocalize in a physical classroom.

• Students should be in control of their participation. With the ability to thoroughly consider all forum communications before sending, students maximize their ability to participate in group discussions confidently.

• Courses should allow anonymity, when desired. With direct email access to instructional support, privacy can be maximized.

• Course content should be structured to provide direct focus on key job tasks. Information is so readily available that education has become more of a matter of focus and direction than of providing information.

• Course content should be highly practical, as the target student market is specifically focused on acquiring valuable skills.

• Finally, because distance education is a changing field, the uses of technology in online education should continue to develop.

Attendance
ISSA courses and programs are 100% distance education with no residency requirement. Attendance for self-paced courses is measured by quiz completion. Quizzes must be completed by the end of the enrollment period.

Grading
Self-paced courses are graded as pass (P) or no pass (NP).

A Pass (P) is earned by completing all course quizzes and earning a minimum of 75% on all sections of the final examination.

All quizzes are recorded and all exams are graded within three business days of receipt by the grading department. If a student chooses to take their quizzes online they will be recorded instantly.

Quizzes
Completion of all quizzes is a course requirement; however, quiz grades do not affect your final score. You will be unable to access your final exam until you have completed all course quizzes.

Final Exams
A passing score of 75% or better is required on each section of the exam. If a student receives less than 75% on a section of the exam, s/he will have the opportunity to resubmit the section one time free of charge.

The Professional Division awards certification when all sections of the examination have been completed with a 75% or better, the student has submitted documentation of high school completion (or equivalent) and adult CPR/AED/First Aid, and all fees are paid in full. ISSA professional certification is valid for two years and is renewable by completing 20 approved continuing education contact hours, and submitting an updated CPR/AED/First Aid card and renewal fee. Obtaining certification through the Professional Division is not a requirement of the educational curriculum, but is recommended for professional goals.

Leave of Absence
A student who finds it necessary to leave ISSA and who plans to return may submit a request for a leave of absence. The student must be within the active enrollment period to be eligible to request a leave of absence.

Plagiarism Policy
Plagiarism is presenting someone else’s work as your own. If you use a whole document, a paragraph, a single sentence, a graphic element—even an idea developed by another—and you don’t acknowledge the creator, you are committing plagiarism.

Plagiarism of a final exam will result in the following penalties:

- Cases of < 30% plagiarism are allowed the one free retest
- Cases of > 30% plagiarism lose the free retest option and must pay the $50 retest fee
- A repeat incident of plagiarism on the retest will result in expulsion from the ISSA program
- Any final exam that is 100% plagiarized will result in expulsion from the ISSA program.
- Any attempt to solicit another individual and/or agency to take part of the final exam or all of the final exam will result in expulsion from the program.

When a member of the education team has determined that academic dishonesty has occurred on the final exam and that a disciplinary action is necessary, he or she will initiate the following:
• The student will receive an email that officially notifies him or her of the charge of academic dishonesty.

• The student may appeal the allegation by providing a written statement to educational-support@issaonline.edu. The appeal must be submitted within seven days of the charge of academic dishonesty.

In the case of an appeal, the allegation will be reviewed by an ethics committee that will consist of selected members of the education team and the Director of the Professional Division. The student will be notified of the ethics committee’s decision within seven days of submitting his or her formal appeal. Should the ethics committee determine that violation of the academic honesty policy occurred, the student will forfeit his or her right to a retest of the final exam.

Any incident of academic dishonesty on the final exam retest or incident of 100% plagiarism on the initial final exam will result in an immediate review by the ethics committee. All decisions made by the ethics committee are final.

Conduct

ISSA has been in the fitness industry from the very beginning. We know the professional characteristics that are necessary for industry success. We hold you to these same high standards because we believe you can develop the required characteristics of successful trainers.

ISSA’s programs are designed to prepare graduates to succeed in a professional setting. As part of that development, students and professional members are required to conduct themselves in an orderly, considerate, respectful, and professional manner at all times. Displayed conduct includes, but is not limited to, the content of an online profile, participation in ISSA’s online forums, interaction with ISSA faculty and staff via email or phone, misrepresentation of ISSA credentials or affiliation, and reported conduct by employers or clients. Acceptable conduct also includes adherence to the policies described in this catalog. Violation of these conditions is grounds for dismissal, cancellation of professional membership, and/or revocation of certification.

Dismissal

The policy of the ISSA is to grade every examination and pass or fail the student based on his or her own merits. As the term “Independent” implies, the student should be free from the influence, guidance or control of another or others. The student should be self-reliant when completing the examination. Acceptable answers should demonstrate critical thinking and a thorough understanding of the material. Although we encourage extracurricular research to augment the information and concepts presented in the course; the student who is submitting the final examination must do the work.

It is the policy of ISSA not to accept identical examinations or plagiarized work. Students may receive one warning. Any further occurrences will result immediate dismissal from the ISSA.

Any student caught soliciting another person to take an exam will be immediately dismissed from the ISSA.

In addition, ISSA offers numerous fitness, health, and business Continuing Education Courses, enabling certified trainers to constantly advance their store of knowledge.

REFUND POLICY EXAMPLES

Undergraduate courses (published start and end dates):

\text{Total tuition} \div \frac{\text{Total course length in days}}{\text{Number of days completed in the course}} = \text{Refund amount}

Refund Policy Example – Student Paid

$925 total tuition

Days 31/70 = 44%

$925 \times (1-0.44) = $518 net refundable tuition

Refund Policy Example – Student Responsibility

$925 total tuition

Days 31/70 = 44%

$925 \times (0.44) = $407 net student responsibility

*This is an example only. Student finances are individualized and vary from student to stu-
Self-paced certificate courses:

\text{Course cost} \div \frac{\text{Total number of course quizzes}}{\text{Number of course quizzes completed}} = \text{Refundable tuition}

paced courses are separate from tuition costs. S&H to the contiguous US totals $25 per course. Students assume increased S&H costs incurred for special ship-

Enrollment in the institution will continue for 90 days beyond the end of a course, or the close of a quarter. Any student who goes beyond the 90-day period and fails to register in new coursework will be considered inactive. Inactive students who wish to resume study will be subject to all terms and conditions of enrollment at the time of resumed study. If the cohort is full at the time the student requests to resume study, the student must wait until an open position becomes available. Active students have priority over inactive students for registration, aid processing, and other administrative action.

Self-paced Certificate Programs: There are two types of self-paced certificate programs: 6 months and 12 months. The 6-month programs are available up to 6 months after the date of enrollment to complete your program. If you fail to complete the program require-

If circumstances prevent students from completing work within the prescribed timeframe, students may request an extension and the course will remain open for at least two weeks following the close of a 5-week course and five weeks following the close of a 10-week course. Extended courses are recorded on the transcript as “incomplete” (I) until work has been graded or the extension expires, whichever comes first. If you request additional answer sheets to submit repeated quiz answers by mail, you will be required to pay a non-refundable $10 administration fee plus shipping and handling costs.

Home Study/Online Examinations: If you fail any portion of your Self-paced Home Study/Online Examination, you will be offered the opportunity to resubmit that portion of the examination, free of charge. (This is known as your second attempt at the examination.) Each retake beyond the second attempt (e.g., third attempt, fourth attempt, etc.) will incur a non-refundable $50 administrative fee.

Students Right to Cancel: Refunds, if applicable and requested, will be made within 30 days of request via the original payment method.

If cancellation occurs at any time within 7 calendar days after the institution accepts enrollment, the student will request a refund within 30 days before the school closes. After 7 days, the institution may retain the $95 non-refundable tuition deposit and other non-refundable fees as applicable (e.g., STRF / S&H / payment plan fees). If third-party payment is used for tuition (e.g., TA, GI Bill, etc.), the deposit amount may be charged directly to the student upon cancellation.

4. Students who withdraw as a result of physical incapacity are entitled to a prorated refund through the end of the term. Medical documentation required.

4. Students who withdraw as a result of physical incapacity are entitled to a prorated refund through the end of the enrollment period. Medical documentation required.

5. Beyond the conclusion of the original enrollment period, students enrolled in credit-bearing courses are no longer eligible for refunds in any amount.

Students who have received federal student aid funds and cancel up through the 60% point are entitled to a refund of remaining unpaid tuition by providing a letter signed by the designated financial aid administrator stating that the student has not satisfied the terms of the financial aid agreement or has declined any funds.
